Creighton Bluejays at Villanova Wildcats

Game Time: 2:00pm ET

TV: Fox

Selection: Creighton-1

This is a big-time revenge game for one of the most underrated teams in the nation. The Creighton Bluejays were coming off an emotional win over top 10 opponent Alabama when they returned home to face Villanova at the beginning of conference play. The Bluejays got up 13 but then blew that double digit lead as they went cold from the perimeter and ended up losing in overtime. One of the better 3-point shooting teams in the land, Creighton shot a dismal 5 for 24 that day. That is unlikely to happen again, especially facing a Villanova team that is ranked 98th in the nation defending the perimeter.

Villanova may be a desperate team hoping to get into the Big Dance, but they are also not a very good team. Coach Kyle Neptune has a career 50-46 record, and he has struggled in his second year with the Wildcats. They do have the home field advantage here which is the only reason the line is as close as it is, but Creighton is one of the more capable away teams in the country. The Bluejays have a few quality wins on the road including a win over Nebraska, as the only team to beat them in Omaha this season. Despite that win back in December, Villanova does not match up very well with Creighton. Take the Bluejays.
