He actually ran very well, racing wide and trying to close in on a very sharp front running winner. He was also stepping up in class into a $320K stake, which was by far his stiffest test to date. With that race under his belt, Who Dey is expected to make another forward move stretching back out to 1 mile, the distance of his Churchill win. He gets an upgrade in riders to strong finisher Brian Hernandez. Shows 2 solid works at Churchill for this. At 10-1 on the morning-line, I feel Who Day is worthy of Best Bet status.

Legend of Time fit's this profile to a tee. He's won 4 of his 5 starts, but even his most recent success in Meydan, was in a race that featured, by overseas standards, at best was a Group 3 event. Appleby decided to ship him to Churchill for this Gr. 2 stake, where he fit's it like a glove. He's aware that this is a Gr. 3 caliber field, masquerading as a Gr. 2. Owned by Godolphin, this 3 year old is well suited to 1 1/16 miles, loves some 'give' to the turf course and is very tactical. Drops 3 Lbs. for this race and adds Frankie Dettori. Post 5 a perfect slot for his running style.

World class horseman Charles Appleby had 2 horses entered in the Gr. 1 Makers Mark Mile at Keeneland on April 12, both owned and bred by Godolphin. The prohibitive favorite was the eventual winner and heavy favorite Master of the Seas. Naval Power, his barn-mate, was 3rd choice at 5-1. It was evident that this 4 year old was clearly being 'prepped' for this Gr. 1 stake stretching out to 1 1/8 miles. One of the tell-tale signs of this master plan by Appleby was his choice of riders for Naval Power that day and the switch in jocks today. Gaffalione rode Naval Power in the Makers Mark with Frankie Dettori jumping aboard Integration. Today the rider carousel places Dettori on Naval Power with Gaffalione getting on Integration. This was by design. Naval Power is a cut below the best turf horses in the Appleby barn, but he has shown steady progress since returning as a new gelding this year off a layoff. There's no question he will prefer today's distance and some 'give' to the turf course. Drawing an outside post with a long run into the first turn is more beneficial to Naval Power than drawing inside.

WAGERS: > NOTE: I decided to make 1 simple win bet on a horse who will be decent odds. I also attacked the trifectas rather than playing any exactas. There's a bigger risk-reward scenario playing it this way. I have given 4 different trifecta plays which total $180. I understand players have different budgets. Start with the first ticket and work your way down. Stay within your comfort level.

* Win bet on (4) CATCHING FREEDOM

Banned for Life was well bet in his debut but had to settle for 3rd after chasing solid fractions from a tough inside post over a sealed sloppy track at the Fair Grounds. The final time of the race was very fast. He was beaten a head for the place money by a colt who returned to win by 8 1/4 lengths. 48 days later, he was stretched out to 2 turns at Keeneland in another strong maiden race. Banned for Life finished 4th that day, beaten 2 1/4 lengths, but he would have been much closer at the finish if not for a very tough trip he encountered. A hole closed up in deep stretch forcing his rider to steady and alter course outside. At that point he had lost all his momentum, but regained it nearing the wire and then galloped out very strong past the wire. Today he cuts back to a 1-turn mile, which I feel is a perfect distance for him. Blinkers go on and he also gets an upgrade in riders to Luis Saez. Draws a perfect post in the middle of this 12 horse field to close out Derby day.
